First meeting, Brussels, 13 December 2010
Press Release

The Co-operation Council between the European Union (EU) and the Republic of Tajikistan (hereafter Tajikistan) held its first meeting on Monday, 13 December 2010 in Brussels. The EU was represented by Mr Janos Martonyi, Minister for Foreign Affairs of Hungary, chairing the meeting on behalf of the EU High Representative for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy, and Mr Andris Piebalgs, Commissioner for Development. The Tajik delegation was led by Mr Khamrokhon Zarifi, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Tajikistan. The EU Special Representative for Central Asia, Ambassador Pierre Morel, also took part in the meeting.

On the occasion of its inaugural session, the Cooperation Council reaffirmed the commitment of both parties to see the EU-Tajikistan relations strengthen across a number of areas, especially in the context of the Partnership and Co-operation Agreement between the EU and the Tajikistan, which entered into force on 1st January 2010, and the overall framework provided by the EU Strategy for Central Asia. It welcomed progress achieved in the implementation of the EU Strategy both on regional and national basis, and commended the active contribution of Tajikistan to that end, including the hosting of a High level EU-Central Asia meeting on the Rule of Law Initiative in Dushanbe in June 2010.

The Co-operation Council provided a good opportunity to review recent economic and social reforms in Tajikistan. The EU side stressed the importance for Tajikistan to continue its efforts to fight against corruption and to improve the investment climate in the country.
